PARADE FEATURED OPENING DAY GREAT WEEK IN CORSICANA

PILOT PEDLEY DROPS BOMBS AND CHEWING GUM AND PRIZE COUPONS

Here comes the parade! The circus is here.

And the Navarro County Shrine Club inaugurated their annual entertainment for the benefit of the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children at Dallas, and also Fall Festival week with a big parade through the downtown business section at 11 o'clock Monday morning.

Motorcycle Officers Atkinson and Renfro cleared the way for the procession, which was headed by Chief of Police Will S. Knight and Noble Bob Davis on horseback. They were followed by a car containing Mayor J. S. Murchison, Commissioners R. L. Wheelock and J. L. Marshall, and City Attorney Wayne R. Howell.

A forty piece band under the direction of Joel Trumble occupied the next section, followed by the squad of the State Orphans' Home under the supervision of J. S. Halley, superintendent of the home. The girls were attractively dressed in white uniforms.

Corsicana's fire fighting equipment made up a section of the parade and contributed to the noise of the occasion with their sirens and horns, that attracted many people to the parade district. The chief's car, two pumps, two hose wagons, and the emergency truck were included in this section.

Immediately following the fire department was a cow led by two negro boys, bearing two signs with the inscription, "This is no bull—we want you at the circus."

An old model Buick roadster, manned by Nobles Clark Butler and Tom Westbrook, headed the Shrine section. The car was covered with placards bearing the words "Spirit of 1907," "Girls Only," and other phrases usually found on collegiate bizzies.

Following the "Spirit of 1907," were about a hundred members of the Navarro County Shrine Club with fez and cane. A "monkey" riding a donkey was included in the parade under the personal supervision of Noble Joe E. Butler. Noble Jim Nick Garitty also had on display one of the biggest "devils" seen in Corsicana in several years.

After the Shrine section, came several late model automobiles from Jackson Brothers and Drane & McKee. Bob Morton's clown band dispensed music at regular intervals. They were followed by several horseback riders from the circus, while the regular circus band closed the procession.

Despite slightly threatening weather, large crowds greeted the procession along the line of march. The parade formed at Allyn Park at the south end of Beaton street, traveled north on Beaton to Third avenue and then circled back down Main street to the starting point.

Promptly at noon Pilot Pedley announced his presence in the air by dropping a bomb over the business section of the city. After circling over the business section several hundred coupons, good for various prizes, weighted with chewing gum, were dropped from the plane and caused a merry scramble the length of Beaton street as the crowds scurried after them.

After dropping the coupons the skyman gave an exhibition of his skill by looping the loop and performing other daring feats in the air. The aerial stunts will feature each day of the Fall Festival and will be presented at noon each day.

Plans For Night Celebration Complete

Plans are going rapidly forward for the Mardi Gras celebration in the downtown area Thursday night, Nov. 17, under the direction of the American Legion and Civic club. Hundreds of electric lights have already been strung across Collin street at the State National Bank block, which will be the center of the festivity.

In addition to music dancing and frolic, the High School student body, under the leadership of their pep squad, will have a giant rally in behalf of their football team for the Tigers' clash with the Cleburne Yellow Jackets.

Everybody is invited to join in the hubbub, bring their noisemakers and comic costumes.

"Sho' Some Big Man Must Be Daid"

Standing on Beaton street Monday morning and seeing electric lights strung the lines of lights on East Collin street, opposite the State National and Central State Bank buildings, where the big Mardi Gras festival and dance will be held as a part of Fall Festival Week, a young negro asked a white man what the occasion was as well as the many decorations on the streets.

He was told that a big man who had his offices in the tall State National Bank building had died and preparations were being made for his funeral, and that he was to

FRANCE REMEMBERS ENDING OF WAR AT SOLDIER'S GRAVE

TOUCHING SCENES ENACTED ON NINTH ANNIVERSARY OF WAR'S ENDING

By Associated Press
Paris, Nov. 11.—The people of Paris—several thousands of them—gathered in black and white, many wearing faces marked reverently around the tomb of the Unknown Soldier today to commemorate the ending of the world war.

Hundreds of battle-scarred flags fluttered in gusts of winter's first snow fall as the shivering crowds observed the two minute silence at eleven o'clock.

Every branch of France's military service was represented in the long columns of marching men which filled the Champs Elysees under the Arc De Triomphe, around which men bearing the marks of the great conflict sat proudly erect in wheel chairs.

President Doumergue, Premier Poincare, Marshal Foch and others prominent in the life of France attended the simple ceremony.

Americans who served in France before 1917 as well as some of those who came to France under the Stars and Stripes, participated in this morning's ritual. At the American Cathedral of Holy Trinity—as hundreds of houses of worship throughout the city—special services were held in memory of those who gave their lives in the war, scores of wreaths being placed in the churches.

Throughout France delegations paid tribute to the war dead, burying the soldiers' monuments under masses of the bright flowers of fall. These monuments are to be found now in every village and hamlet.

TEMPLE OF JUSTICE LYNCHING SPOT FOR 18-YEAR OLD BLACK CHARGED WITH CRIMINAL ASSAULT ON YOUNG WHITE GIRL

By Associated Press.
Columbia, Tenn., Nov. 12.—A citi-del of justice here, became the lynching spot for Henry Choate, 18-year old negro, a few hours after his alleged criminal attack yesterday on a white girl.

Soon after officers had taken the negro in custody at a farm house where a blood-stained pistol was found, a band of 350 men, many armed, stormed the jail, battered the door with sledge hammers and captured Choate.

At the court house where large crows had gathered, the negro was said to have confessed beating the girl over the head with a pistol.
The Rev. J. R. Parsons, one among a group of prominent citizens who endeavored to allow the law to take its course, declared he heard the confession.

A noose was placed about the neck of the negro and he was hung from a second story window of the building.

Sheriff L. C. Wiley declared he unlocked Choate's cell door after the mob had rushed into the jail, threatening to unloose all prisoners. He said the main door was battered down. The Rev. Mr. Parsons declared the door was unlocked from the inside.

REWARDS FOR DEAD BANDITS WILL NOT REDUCE ROBBERIES

SUCH IS IDEA ADVANCED BY CAPT. TOM HICKMAN OF
TEXAS RANGERS

By Associated Press.

Dallas, Nov. 12.—Posting of rewards of $5,000 for each dead bank robber announced by the Secretary of the State Bankers' Association will not materially reduce the number of such robberies, in the opinion of Tom Hickman, Captain of Texas Rangers expressed today.
Captain Hickman said: "It may provide a more profitable field of endeavor for some of these bank robbers. It is easy to see how a member of a bank robbing gang would double cross his pals up off a scheduled bank robbery let officers shot them down and then share a part of the reward money.
In many instances such tactics would produce more cash than might be obtained from a bank stick-up. And he would be making the money entirely within the law."

TEMPORARY TARIFF RECEIVED APPROVAL FRENCH CABINET

By Associated Press.

Paris, Nov. 12.—The French
Cabinet today approved a temporary Franco-American tariff arrangement. A new schedule of duties on American goods will be promulgated shortly by a governmental decree.

The cabinet approved the arrangement at a meeting this afternoon and Minister of Commerce Bokanowski, presenting the matter, announced that the "negotiations have been very happily concluded." The official journal soon will publish the decree establishing the new tariff rates.

While the French and American experts take the time necessary to negotiate a durable arrangement between the two countries the new schedule approved by the cabinet will reinstate the tariff formerly accorded to the United States except where the regent

German commercial treaty with France establishes higher minimums. In this case the United States will be on the same basis as Germany. PAGE ONE

SUNDAY GOOD DAY IN ALL DEPARTMENTS FIRST CHRISTIAN

INTERESTING SERMONS, GOOD MUSIC AND LARGE ATTEND-ANCE ALL SERVICES

Yesterday was another good day with the First Christian church. The pastor, Paul J. Merrill, preached at both services. His morning subject was "Rock of Ages," and his evening subject was "It's Better to be Safe than Sorry." Both services drew large audiences, the house being well filled.

Special music for the day included a quartet at the morning hour composed of Mrs. E. L. Hogan, soprano; Mrs. Paul J. Merrill, contralto; Mr. Tom Sweeney, bass, and Rev. Paul J. Merrill, tenor. At night Mrs. J. P. Jacks sang "When They Ring the Golden Bells." Her rendering of it was very splendid. She was accompanied by the orchestra playing a specially arranged accompaniment.

The orchestra composed of ten pieces and under the direction of Mr. Lawrence Mauber played at both morning and evening services. At the evening hour the pastor gave a brief report of the progress of the church so far this year. The report shows that there has been a gain over last year in all departments, including the finances.

At the morning hour an offering was taken to finish payment on the seats in the auditorium of the educational building. In less than fifteen minutes the amount was raised, it being nearly $600.00.

The Bible school showed an attendance of 319 with an offering of $109.45 as compared with an attendance of 215 and an offering of $96.13 an year ago.

OCTOBER RECORD MONTH CONTRACTS NEW CONSTRUCTION

TOTAL OF OVER HALF BILLION DOLLARS IN THIRTY-SEVEN STATES

New construction started in the 37 Eastern States (about 91 per cent of the total in the United States) last month reached a total of $562,813,800, according to F. W. Dodge Corporation. The above figure was the highest October record total on record and was the fourth largest monthly total on record for this year. It was 8 per cent ahead of the September 1927 figure and 9 per cent over the total for October last year.

The most important items in the October building record were: $243,562,200, or 43 per cent of all construction, for residential buildings; $168,216,500, or 19 per cent, for public works and utilities; $79,719,700, or 14 per cent, for commercial buildings; $50,712,200, or 9 per cent, for industrial projects; and $30,169,600, or 5 per cent, for educational buildings.

Last month's record brought the total volume in construction started since the first of this year up to $5,359,297,900, being an increase of $2,791,500 over the amount reported in the corresponding period of 1926.

New work contemplated in the 37 Eastern States during October amounted to $607,986,900. This figure showed a drop of only 3 per cent from the amount reported in September of this year and a loss of 5 per cent from the amount reported in October of last year.

Texas Mark Lower. Construction started last month in Texas amounted to $12,663,500. This figure was 13 per cent below the total for the preceding month and was 17 per cent less than the total for October of last year.

Analysis of last month's building record showed the following items of importance: $6,892,200, or 48 per cent of all construction, for residential buildings; $2,278,400, or 17 per cent, for public works and utilities; $1,992,800, or 15 per cent, for commercial buildings; and $686,000, or 5 per cent, for religious and memorial projects.

Southeastern States. The Southeastern States (the Carolinas, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana) had $46,378,600 in contracts for new buildings and engineering work during October. REVIVAL MEETING STARTED SUNDAY AT CHURCH OF CHRIST

REV. J. L. HINES, PASTOR, IS CONDUCTING THE SERVICES

Rev. J. L. Hines, pastor of the Church of Christ, and well known evangelist of that denomination, is doing the preaching of the revival meeting which started at that church Sunday morning. The meeting will continue through Sunday, November 27. It has been announced.

The singing is under the direction of Roy Layton.

An unusual amount of interest was shown in the opening services Sunday by the membership of the church. At the morning hour the main auditorium was filled to capacity and many occupied the balcony. The attendance at the evening service was also large.

The morning service from 10 to 11 o'clock and the evening service at 7:30. No day services will be held on Saturdays. Services each Sunday morning will start at 10:45.

"Most Excellent Way" was the subject used by Rev. Mr. Hines Sunday morning and it was based on First Corinthians 12:31. "But covet earnestly the best gifts: and yet show I unto you a more excellent way."

The minister declared that the way of love was the most excellent way and as a preliminary to his declaration and appeal to those out of Christ he gave a resume of the organization of the church at Corinth and of the trouble in the church afterwards and of Paul's writing to the church and his instructions.

The Rev. Mr. Hines declared that the church today encountered the same troubles that the church at Corinth had, and added if they would let love rule there would be peace and harmony.

CONFUSION REIGNS AFTER MAMMOTH GAS TANK IS WRECKED

MANY KILLED AND INJURED; STREETS AND HOUSES ARE WRECKED

By Associated Press.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 14.—Recovery late this afternoon of the bodies of six additional victims of the disastrous explosion of a giant gas storage tank on the north side here, increased the known death toll to twenty-one.

By Associated Press.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 14.—Forty-four persons were known to have met death and more than 500 were injured, some seriously, here today when a giant natural gas storage tank at the Manchester Works of the Equitable Gas Company exploded, spreading death and destruction over an area one square mile. Firemen, police and volunteer rescuers were digging into the ruins of scores of buildings in the belief that others had been killed and their bodies buried in the debris.

Indications that the death toll would increase were found in one wrecked building alone—the plant of the Pittsburgh Clay Pottery Company. One hundred and fifty men escaped from the building with cuts and bruises, while eight or ten others, trapped in the basement were believed to have been drowned by the water rushing in from broken mains in the streets. Firemen were pumping out the basement in an effort to locate additional bodies.

Meantime, hundreds of firemen and rescuers were digging into piles of debris, searching for victims.

With a shock like that of an earthquake, the huge tank, containing several million cubic feet of gas, was rent asunder. It was believed that the blast was caused by workmen who were repairing the tank with acetylene torches.

The known death toll was increased to 15 this afternoon when the body of an unidentified man was recovered from a flooded basement.

By Associated Press.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 14.—More than a score of persons were known to have been killed and several hundred injured here today when a mammoth gas storage tank exploded, spreading death and destruction throughout the lower North Side district.

Hampered in the work of rescue by wrecked buildings, streets flooded by broken water mains and dangling electric wires, police and firemen finally penetrated a part of the devastated area. They recovered seven bodies within a few minutes, and newspaper men at the scene said they had counted at least twenty dead in the streets and the wrecked houses.

The tank, containing 5,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas, let loose with one of the most terrific blasts in Pittsburgh's history. Practically every building in the immediate vicinity was wrecked, and windows over a wide area were shattered, including some in downtown department stores and office structures.

Ball of Fire Shot High

When the tank burst, a ball of fire, higher than the adjacent tip of Mount Washington, shot into the air, spreading out in a fan shape.

Firemen and police volunteer workers expressed the belief that scores of persons, in their homes and in factories of the region, had been trapped when the building collapsed.

Every hospital in the city was crowded with injured. The scene of the disaster was one of wild confusion. Residents of the thickly settled district rushed about the streets as if mad. Women sought their children while men went into the debris of their homes in an effort to bring out some loved one trapped in the wreckage.

Force of Blast Ripped Down All Telephone and Light Wires, knocked over poles and caused houses to tumble down. Streets in the ill-fated region bulged, breaking sewer and water pipes.

Every policeman in the city was ordered to duty. They roped off an area one mile square, to keep back the thousands who rushed to the scene. Private automobiles and trucks were commandeered to take injured to hospitals, and within a short time every hospital in the city was jammed and the firemen were forced to set up emergency aid stations at the scene.

The first eleven bodies taken to the morgue were workmen.

Pieces of the tank steel supports, some weighing more than 100 pounds, were found a mile from the scene.

Force Felt Blocks Away

A few car blocks from the tank when it let go, was wrecked and every passenger aboard was hurt. Many school children, in a nearby school yard, were cut by flying glass when the windows in the structure were shattered.

The force with which the big gas tank exploded was recounted by Government Weather Forecaster W. S. Brotzman, who was seated on the top (20th) floor of Oliver building.

He said: "As if given a mighty push, the Oliver building swayed, something like the caused by an earthquake. We found that the barometer recorded the increased air pressure resulting. The air was so compressed by the violent concussion that its pressure became greater by five hundredths of an inch."

The Joseph Horn department store warehouse, near the tank was crushed like an egg shell by the force of the blast.

With eleven bodies at the morgue, the regular undertakers were forced to summon aid. A number of morticians from private undertaking houses were put to work, while others were held in reserve to handle additional bodies as they were recovered from the ruins.

The death list continued to grow when two other victims succumbed to their injuries in hospitals.

Hundreds injured. It was estimated by hospital officials that between 500 and 600 were injured, some seriously. The hospital facilities of the city were taxed to capacity. Many of the injured staggered to the Presbyterian and Allegheny General hospitals, and at the latter institution so many victims walked in that the steps leading to the main door were spattered with blood. Most of the injured had been cut and hurt by flying glass and debris.

The gas works on Deedsdale street, North Side, was said to employ more than 200 men, but just how many of these were at work at the time was not known.

Scenes Beyond Description. Begrimed firemen, working within the radius through which the explosion shot death and destruction, said words would not describe the scene. They were fighting their way through the debris choked streets, aided by volunteer rescue workers, but their progress was slow. They were menaced by tottering buildings.

At one point they stumbled over an infant baby. When rescuers reached a point near the tank, they found that the large factory building occupied by the Union Paint Company had caved in, trapping all the workers in the plant. Here a number of dead were dug from the debris.

By Associated Press.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 14.—Scores of persons were reported to have been killed or injured on the lower North Side of Pittsburgh today when a mammoth storage gas tank of the Equitable Gas Company exploded with a terrific blast, rocking this entire region.

The huge tank with its steel framework was ripped asunder, sections of the steel supports being hurled many blocks. Property damage was widespread, even in downtown Pittsburgh, where business buildings and department store windows were blown out.

A general alarm of the fire summoned firemen, police and ambulances, they found it difficult to fight their way into the immediate region of the explosion, but one glimpse of the thickly settled district showed that many buildings were wrecked. The first injured were picked up from streets adjacent to the scene. They had been struck by flying debris.

The tank was located in the Beaver avenue district of the North Side, adjacent to the Manchester bridge, which spans the Allegheny river where it joins the Monongahela to form the Ohio.

Witnesses said that after the first explosion a ball of fire sailed into the air several hundred feet and burst with a deafening roar. Houses caved in, streets were ripped up and telephone and electric wires torn down. Water pipes, buried deep in streets, were ripped out.

Several blocks away two hundred school children were standing in the school yard, ready to enter the building. Practically every window in the school was shattered and many of the pupils were cut by flying glass.

Flooded streets strewn with wreckage, hampered the work of the police and firemen. Their task was made more hazardous by the dangling electric wires, but finally the current was turned off and they entered the district. Police reserves roped off an area a mile square, and the work of determining just what had occurred in the ruined section got under way.

When the extent of the disaster became apparent, the police commandeered private automobiles and trucks to convey injured to hospitals. Within an hour about the blast the three big hospitals on the North Side were reported crowded with victims. Many of the injured bleeding from cuts and other injuries, staggered to the Allegheny General and Presbyterian hospitals. Some collapsed on the steps and were carried inside by nurses and doctors.

Another Eyewitness Story of Blast

By Associated Press.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 14.—A vivid eye witness account of scenes which followed today's gas explosion on the North Side was told by Harry McCullough, whose home is three blocks from the gas works.

"The kitchen door of my house knocked me down when it crashed from the hinges," he said. "I rushed out and started for the gas works. As I reached the street, a man fell into my arms and we both fell. Blood was gushing from an ugly wound on his neck. Other people were running about as if mad. I got up and made another start. I saw a woman looking out of a broken window. Her face looked as if she had been struck by a shotgun charge.

"Live wires were hanging down into the flooded streets, sputtering and squirming. I changed my direction into an alley. Here two women staggered from a house in their night clothes. Both had been blown from their beds. They were bruised and bleeding.

"By this time the streets and alleys were filled with people rushing from houses. I took the two women to my home and gave them some clothes. Returning toward the gas works I found the police and firemen on the job doing mighty fine work."

Vivid Description Of Gas Explosion

By Associated Press.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 14.—A vivid description of the explosion was given by Fire Chief Richard L. Smith, who was driving his automobile over the Manchester bridge at the junction of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, in full view of the blast when it let go.

"The great steel tank rose hundreds of feet into the air like a great balloon," he said. "It remained in tact for an instant and then burst like a great fire works bomb. As it let go with a terrific roar, the hundreds of tons of steel went hurtling through the air as so much pasteboard and then the crash of building and glass filled the air."

Explosion Sidelights

By Associated Press.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 14.—Patrolmen from the Centre Avenue station, among the first to reach the gas blast disaster scene today, were in time to rescue a woman who had given birth to a baby in a wrecked Ridge avenue house. The mother was cut by flying glass but the infant was unharmed.

Summoned to the scene of the disaster, Ray Michaels, an emergency electric lineman, stumbled over the body of a man in the street. He halted, turned the body over, and looked into the face of his father, C. F. Michaels, superintendent of the wrecked gas works. The son accompanied the remains to the morgue.

Patrolman Sylvester Stoehr was strolling along his beat on a street fronting the Ohio river when the tank went up. The officer, just a few seconds before, had noticed a small boy playing on the river bank. The force of the blast knocked the boy into the river. The policeman threw off his coat, jumped into the water, and rescued the unconscious lad.

WASHINGTON PAPER PUBLISHES ARTICLES SHOWING PLOTTINGS

FACSIMILIES OF DOCUMENTS IN SECRET FILES OF MEX- ICO PUBLISHED

By Associated Press.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Secretary Kellogg declined to comment today on the publication of documents in the Hearst newspapers purporting to be reproductions of Mexican official communications.

"The Department of State cannot comment on a story based on documentary material concerning the existence and authenticity of what it has no knowledge and no information whatever," he said.

Mexican Embassy officials declared the documents were falsifications and not worthy of comment. Ambassador Tellez was in San Antonio today.

By Associated Press.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The Washington Herald, a Hearst paper, today published a copyrighted article in which were incorporated facsimiles of documents said to have come from secret files of the Mexican government supporting the claim of President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg that the recent Nicaraguan revolution was fomented and supported by Mexico.

One document, dated June 2, 1926, purported to be an order for payment of $50,000 to Dr. Pedro Jose Zepeda, Mexican representative of Dr. Juan B. Sacasa, who led the revolt, for the express purpose of purchasing arms and ammunition for the insurrectionists.

As published it bore the signature of President Calles. Other orders purported to call for payment of sums ranging from $5,000 to $25,000 to Zepeda and Dr. Carlos Leon, for performance of secret missions confided to each.

The arms were charged in the documents to the secret expenses of the presidential staff.

The Herald said that these papers, and more to be published later, were brought to this country by Mexican officials and obtained from them by the Hearst newspaper. It declared, too, that the paper was in possession of information seriously implicating the government of Russia.

BURNS PROMISED CHANCE PRESENT HIS SIDE TO JURY

By Associated Press.

Washington, Nov. 14.—William J. Burns and his son, W. Sherman Burns, who have come under concentrated fire in the Tennot Dome oil jury case were given permission today by the government to explain to the Federal grand jury the circumstances surrounding the charges that Burns' men had fabricated testimony which would have led to mistrial in the Fall-Sinclair case.

Showing up in court with the declaration that they would disprove the charges made by one of their own men, William V. McMullin, the internationally known pair were first denied an opportunity to go before the inquisitorial body, but after long argument in the district attorney's office it was agreed that they might tell their stories tomorrow.

Assistant District Attorney Burkinslaw first declined to agree to the course suggested by the accused men, but District Attorney Gordon finally reversed the decision of his subordinate.

The grand jury inquiry then was continued. Burkinslaw presenting some odds and ends of testimony designed to fill some of the gaps still remaining before the jury meets to decide whether any presentment is to be made and if so, against whom the indictments are to be drawn.

Department of congress.

Explaining American intervention in Nicaragua, President Coolidge in a message to Congress early in the year, asserted that the Nicaraguan revolution was being fostered by the Mexican government and a few days later, Secretary Kellogg issued a statement supporting the views of the President and declaring that Bolshevism had gained a foothold in Central America.

Considerable controversy was precipitated and the subject was debated at length on the floors of the Senate and House.

The Herald article said that at the time of Secretary Kellogg's statement he had not the documentary evidence to support his claim. It declared, too, that the paper was in possession of information seriously implicating the government of Russia.

SILENCE MARKS ELEVEN O'CLOCK IN BELGIUM TODAY

TWO HUNDRED OF "OLD CON- TEMPTIBLES" OBSERVED ARMISTICE DAY, MONS

By Associated Press.

Brussels, Nov. 11.—A company of 200 of the "Old Contemptibles" of the British regular army forces that helped to stem the first rush of the German troops at the beginning of the world war, observed two minutes silence today in honor of Armistice Day at Mons on the ground over which they fought their first engagement in 1914.

The customary one minute of silence at eleven o'clock this morning was observed here by regimental delegations with bands and colors lined up before the tomb of the unknown soldier. The celebration was held in the midst of a snow storm.

A salvo of guns, filled the two minute interval, and church bells rang, with hands playing to national anthems and the half mast flag was hoisted to full staff.

Roaring Dusk to Be Shown Grand

Scenes in the African jungle, said to have never been paralleled for the motion picture camera, make "Roaring Dusk," which begins at the Grand Wednesday a truthful and vivid record of wild animal life.

Col. Eugene De Bogory, native Texan, and Larry, his 15-year-old son, headed a hazardous adventure into the African jungle.

"Roaring Dusk" is the camera record of their trip. The trick photography usually employed in pictures where wild animals are used, is entirely missing from this film. The scenes are shown as they were actually recorded during the venturesome journey.

HIGHWAY MEETING AT FORT WORTH TO DRAW LARGE CROWD

COL. A. B. BARBER OF WASHINGTON ONE OF MAIN SPEAKERS FOR EVENT

Special to the Sun.

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 12.—Col. A. B. Barber of Washington, D. C., manager of the transportation and communication department of the United States Chamber of Commerce, will be the principal speaker at the Southwestern State Highway Conference to be held in Fort Worth, Nov. 23 and 24, it was announced here by J. J. Foley of Dallas, chairman of the program committee.

The conference is being sponsored jointly by the Highway Club of Texas and the Oklahoma Good Roads Association. Five States: Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and New Mexico, are to be represented, and the purpose of the conference is to discuss highway and traffic problems which are common to these commonwealths.

Roy M. Johnson of Ardmore, a former member of the Oklahoma Highway Commission and now president of the Oklahoma Good Roads Association, as chairman of the committee on invitations, has extended invitations to the conference to highway commissioners and other executives of the five states, as well as hundreds of good roads enthusiasts and members of automobile associations and other organizations which have an interest in the problems to be considered.

Expect Large Attendance.
Preparations are being made to entertain at least 1,000 visitors according to W. T. Wheeler, general manager of the Highway Club.

Simplification and correlation of the various laws dealing with highways and traffic control in the five States is to be stressed at the conference, and as a means to this end resolutions are to be offered advocating by the several States of the Uniform Motor Code worked out by the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety under the direction of Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

Rapid increase in interstate motor traffic in the last few years and the multiplicity of highway and traffic laws in the different states has caused motorists endless confusion and it is to remove this annoyance that the Uniform Code is being advocated. Several States already have put it into effect, but the conference to be held in Fort Worth is the first concerted movement for its adoption in this section of the country.

Highway Marking.
One important improvement to be advocated by the conference is not covered by the Uniform Code provides for the uniform marking of interstate highways. All of the States now have their designated highways numbered, and the systems in vogue are said to be entirely satisfactory for purely intrastate traffic, but a source of delays and confusion for the interstate traveler. The Bureau of Public Roads has worked out a national system of numbering designed to rectify this condition, and adoption of this plan is to be urged at the conference.

Colonel Barber's address at the conference is to deal primarily with the Uniform Motor Code, and he probably is the best qualified man in the United States to discuss the topic. When the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety was organized, Colonel Barber was designated by Secretary Hoover as its director, and he was largely instrumental in bringing to a successful conclusion the task of drafting the code.

Colonel Barber's connection with the United States Chamber of Commerce has brought him in close contact with all phases of transportation—railway, highway and waterway—and he has had a wide engineering experience in the transportation field in this country and abroad.

West Point Graduate.
He is a graduate of West Point and soon after the outbreak of the war was sent to France with a railway commission to report on the needs of the French railways in supplying the allied forces. Later he was assigned to General Pershing's staff in connection with the organization of transportation and overseas shipping. After the armistice he supervised the transportation of supplies to various countries of Eastern Europe for the American Relief Administration and in 1919 was nominated by Secretary Hoover, upon request of the Polish Government, to assist in the organization of the railways, coal industry and other technical services of the republic.

Colonel Barber's address is to be delivered at the opening session of the conference, and he will be the guest of honor at a banquet that evening.

IMPROVEMENTS BEING MADE FISH HATCHERY AT SAN MARCOS NOW

STREAMS OF SOUTHWEST AND CENTRAL TEXAS TO BE STOCKED WITH FISH

By Associated Press.

San Marcos, Texas, Nov. 14.—The game fish Texas sportsmen catch during the next few years will sprout their first scale in a $100,000 hatchery in San Marcos, watered by the crystal San Marcos river.

This hatchery, operated by the federal government, is now being doubled in capacity at a cost this year of $6,000 and an ultimate expected cost of $25,000.

While block-long dikes are being built, and numerous breeding ponds excavated, the older portion of the hatchery is being stocked at capacity, and from it hundreds of thousands of baby fish are being taken to replenish streams of Central and Southwest Texas.

O. N. Baldwin, veteran fish hatchery man, is in charge. He succeeded Mark Riley, who joined the state game and fish department as manager of a big western hatchery. Mr. Baldwin was formerly here, and under his direction the hatchery was laid out and put into operation. Now he is adding several acres to the expanse of pools in which game fish will be bred.

Efforts are being made to assure the remaining funds for completion of the $21,000 program of utilizing the entire tract of land here for capacity operation of the hatchery.

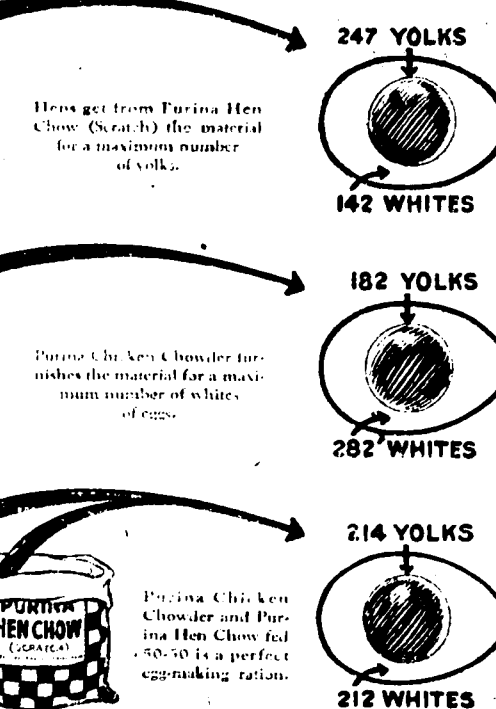

The hatchery is located in the edge of the city, along the Austin-San Marcos highway, and within a hundred feet of the San Marcos river, which supplies the hatchery with water. The hatchery, opposite the State Teachers College bathing pool, is itself one of the most picturesque scenic attractions of San Marcos, mirroring in its rippling pools the towers of the Teachers College set on top of a hill 300 feet above it.

SIMON DANIELS

FORMER GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA
GRAND JURY WITNESSGOES BEFORE PROBERS AFTER CONFERENCE WITH DISTRICT
ATTORNEY

By Associated Press.
Washington, Nov. 12.—Gifford Pinchot, former governor of Pennsylvania, went before the grand jury in the oil jury tampering investigation today and later said he had laid before the district attorney's office information regarding alleged attempts to tamper with the Fall-Sinclair jury by Burns detectives and efforts by the Burns agency to make it appear that the government was having improper contracts with members of the jury.

The information, Mr. Pinchot said, was brought to him on October 24, by a Burns operative by the name of McMullen.

The detective swore to a eight-page statement Pinchot said, which told much more about the case than anything that had previously been made public.

"On October 24," said the former governor, "a man came to me because, he said, he thought I was the level, and he wanted to give information concerning attempts to influence the Fall-Sinclair jury."

"He said he was disgusted with the whole affair, and wanted to tell the whole story," I sent him to Owen Roberts, government oil counsel, and so far as I know this was the first indication of what was going on.

"Roberts had him tell the story to District Attorney Gordon, and this man, whose name is McMullen, told an eight-page affidavit, which tells very much more than anything that has come out so far."

"It reveals that the Burns detectives were not only trying to tamper with the jury, but were trying to make it appear that the government was tampering with the jury."

Pinchot said that he knew no reason that the Burns detectives had come to him other than that they had a mutual friend, McMullen, he said to have come here from Philadelphia.

"McMullen might have known that I have been fighting these fellows a long time," Pinchot said, "but he only said that he came to me because he thought I was on the level."

By Associated Press.
Washington, Nov. 12.—Gifford Pinchot, by name a grand jury witness today in the investigation of charges of jury tampering in the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy trial.

The former Pennsylvania governor recently moved to Washington, and has been devoting much of his time to a campaign against what he regards as a dangerous exploitation of water power by private interests. In past years he took an active part in the fight for development of natural resources, beginning with his services under the Taft administration as chief government forester.

Until today there has been no public mention of Mr. Pinchot in connection with the Fall-Sinclair proceedings.

The former governor was taken into grand jury room after a quarter-hour conference with District Attorney Gordon and his assistant, Neil Burkinshaw, who is directing the government investigation into the activities of Burns detectives in shadowing the trial jurors.

District Attorney Smiles.

Gordon wore a broad smile as he came out of the conference with Mr. Pinchot.

Recently the government attorneys have been hinting at a sensational disclosure to be made as the grand jury inquiry draws to a close. Whether Mr. Pinchot is to be the source of this disclosure or to have any connection with it, the prosecutor's office refused to say.

It was evident, however, that the district attorney and his assistant regarded Pinchot's information as of the highest importance.

Pinchot was before the grand jury exactly twelve minutes. Gordon and Burkinshaw flanked him as he passed down the hall returning to the district attorney's office.

Newspaper correspondents were warned away by the prosecuting officials. It is not the first time that the former governor has been the thick of a dramatic controversy of national scope.

The parade will form at 10:30 o'clock on the north side of the Court House and will move out promptly at 11 o'clock.

The prizes are as follows:

$25.00 cash prize for farm wagon hauling greatest number of non-compressed bales of cotton in parade.

$15.00 cash prize for wagon or truck hauling greatest number of turkeys in parade. (A. B. Walker and Son offer 25 cents per pound for prize turkey load plus an extra prize of $10.00 on the load.)

$15.00 cash prize for farm wagon carrying largest white family in parade.

$15.00 cash prize for farm wagon carrying largest colored family.

and his later experiences in Pennsylvania politics have been filled with bitter encounters over prohibition, public resources and other issues.

During Mr. Pinchot's visit to the court house, Gordon and Burkinshaw wore an air of mystery not hitherto evident during the two weeks of the grand jury sifting.

Pinchot remained in Gordon's office while Burkinshaw took into the grand jury room William V. Long, one of the Burns men who spent much time in shadowing an automobile owned by Harris R. Lamb, a special assistant to the attorney general.

The district attorney then was summoned and he went into the grand jury room with a large package of papers under his arm.

There was a report around the court house that the original information with the jury surveillance by the Burns men was supplied to the government by Pinchot. These reports could not be confirmed, however, as the prosecuting officers declined to discuss in any way the appearance of the former governor before the grand jury.

Washington, Nov. 12.—A microscopic examination of records of the Mayflower Hotel relating to Larry F. Sinclair and his associates during the time of the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy trial was started today by government investigators.

These records include all expenditures by Sinclair, Henry Mason Day, one of his confidential associates, and others of his party in the presidential suite of the hotel. They will be presented on Monday to the grand jury which is considering charges of jury tampering.

The investigators are seeking to establish especially whether any large sums in cash were kept at the Mayflower by Sinclair and Day and will examine closely the records of all withdrawals of funds during the time Burns detectives were shadowing the Fall-Sinclair jury.

Thus far the government investigators have found no record of payments to the Burns agency, W. Sherman Burns, head of the detective organization says no payments have been made because he has not yet presented a bill to day who, he says, retained the services of the agency.

The grand jury held another extraordinary session in the effort to complete the drawing in of loose ends preparatory to receiving testimony which District Attorney Gordon has said will furnish a startling development in the case.

VEHICULAR TUNNEL UNDER HUDSON RIVER OPENED LATE
SATURDAY, COST $48,000,000

By Associated Press.

New York, Nov. 12.—The opening of a $48,000,000 vehicular tunnel, 9,250 feet long and running 72 feet below the bed of the Hudson river, between New York and Jersey City, marks another giant stride in acceleration of the tremendous traffic of the metropolis.

After seven years spent in construction, the formal opening of the tunnel late this afternoon, required only the touch of President Coolidge on a telegraph key in Washington to draw aside two American flags at the entrances of the twin tubes of the tunnel, and open the greatest under-way boulevard in the world to the official christening party of the States governors, 130 mayors and 15,000 guests.

Two tubes, each with a road width of 20 feet, have a capacity for 3,800 cars hourly.

The tunnels are paved with granite blocks, brilliantly illuminated and supplied with a complete change of air 42 times per hour by 84 ventilating fans.

Five hundred thousand cubic yards of earth and rock were removed from beneath the river bed to make room for 115,000 tons of cast iron and 130,000 cubic yards of concrete with which the frame of the huge tunnel is built.

The tunnel, conceived by Clifford M. Holland, an engineer, and named for him, connects the lower end of Manhattan Island with Jersey City. Tunnels for trains have been in operation under the Hudson for years but vehicles have had to use ferries.

METHODISTS ADOPT REPORT OF EDUCATION COMMISSION AT BIG SPRING

By Associated Press.
Big Spring, Texas, Nov. 12.—A substitute for what is known in the Northern Texas Methodist conference as rule number 9, dealing with a declaration of faith by teachers in the church's schools was adopted today after a spirited debate of two years.

The report of the education commission was the one adopted. The report read: "That we recommend that rule number 9 be stricken from our minutes and in lieu thereof we instruct the trustees of our institutions of learning to use all care and diligence in seeing that the faculties of these institutions are both sound in faith and Christian character, to the end that our young men and women may be brought under the most gracious and healthful influences during their college years."

BADLY RUN-DOWN

Kentucky Woman Had "Terrible Time" Doing Her Home Work. Strength Returned After She Took Cardui.

Shelbyville, Ky.—"Several years ago," says Mrs. Alven Jesse, of this place, "my health was very bad. I was very much run-down. I was in such a weak, nervous condition that I was not able to do my housework. I struggled to keep up, because I had to, but many a time I spent hours in bed, trying to force enough strength to go through the daily routine."

"This condition went on for some time, until I heard about Cardui, which some one told me was good for such ailments. I gave it an immediate trial, and, I am thankful to say, my improvement was rapid. Soon was able to do my housework with ease and comfort. I felt fine and I looked so much better."

"This spring I was not as well as I had been. I was ill in the winter with colds, which left me weak. So I sent at once to the store for Cardui and began taking it. In just a little while I was feeling much better, my strength returned and I was able to get my work done easier and with less effort."

COLDEST WEATHER

OVER WIDE AREA

SUB-ZERO TEMPERATURES REGISTERED IN MONTANA SATURDAY MORNING

By Associated Press.
Kansas City, Nov. 12.—Sub-zero temperatures appeared today in the northwest corner of a huge snow checkerboard created by a two-day storm to reinforce a cold wave sweeping eastward.

Montana blanketed with from three to eight inches of snow, reported the lowest marks. A mercury hit one below zero in Lewis town, in central Montana, this morning while Havre, Neb., at that point, recorded one above.

The storm in the mountains wound up in Wyoming with inch snow fall, leaving Idaho finally untouched but with the promise of precipitation today.

A brisk icy wind accompanying the snow, moved eastward yesterday on a five state front to bring drops of more than fifty degrees to South-west and Midwest points where new records were made Thursday with thermometers in the upper seventies. Snow flurries were reported in the Dakotas, Nebraska and Kansas.

Fair with continued cold was forecast generally for the West today.

Winter Whistled
Into Lake Region

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Nov. 12.—Winter whistled into the Lake region at dusk last night on the wings of an eight-mile gale.

The storm, almost tornado in spots, tore at houses and small buildings in suburbs fringing the north side of Chicago, bounced over to Hyde Park in the south and then, with much of its fury spent, swept east and north into Indiana and Michigan.

A temperature drop of 23 degrees took place in three hours, the drop being from 71 degrees before the storm to 48 above when it had passed.

An unidentified boy was killed by lightning at Milwaukee. Two children were injured as high wind shrieked through Springfield, Ill. Twelve persons were slightly injured and thousands of dollars worth of damage was done in the Chicago storm area.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 12.—Opponents to the proposed motor bus fare increase between Fort Worth and Dallas thing down the gauntlet at the outset of the hearing before the State Railroad Commission Saturday when E. G. Senter of Dallas wanted to know, in an opening statement, why the operating loss claimed by Texas Motor Coaches, Inc., came after the interurban lines took the buses over.

Senter, presenting citizens of Arlington, where he has property, declared that the buses "made a fifty per cent profit" before the alleged acquisition by traction company interests. The application for increased rates recites a loss of $5,616.48 during September and asks right to charge 31 1-2 cents per passenger mile, with a 25c minimum, instead of the present 50c one way passage.

A. F. Townsend, General Manager of the Texas Motor Coaches Inc., testified that the company has put on improved equipment, run better schedules and offered stable insurance protection to patrons since the concern began operation.

Pimples, Boils,
Skin Eruptions

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight, I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking-out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S.S.S. which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S.S.S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S.S.S. a trial. It clears up the skin; makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

LARGE PERCENTAGE INMATES HOME HERE ARE NOT ORPHANS

INTERESTING STATEMENT IS-SUED BY CHAIRMAN BOARD OF CONTROL

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Nov. 12.—Nearly 40 per cent of the inmates of the state orphan's home, Corsicana, are not orphans and do not properly belong there. Dr. H. H. Harrington, chairman of the state board of control, declared today in a statement concerning the institution.

"Sometime ago," he said, "the superintendent of the home, in response to my inquiry, reported that there were about 69 children there whose fathers had abandoned, without divorce, the mothers of the children, while he reported only 33 children in the institution each of whose parents were dead."

His statement in part giving history and problems of the schools: "The home has been in operation for 40 years. It is located about three miles from Corsicana, and now has 553 inmates and employees, $3 people. The monthly payroll being $6,000, with an average monthly salary of $17.12.

"The average number of inmates to the number of employees is about 6-1-2 and the support and maintenance expenditures for the last seven years is an annual average of $22.81 per inmate, as compared with $702.71 for each inmate at the girls training school, Gainesville, or $251.13 for the juvenile training school, Gainesville, or $430.69 for the home for dependent and neglected children, Waco.

This average for the homes at Waco is for five years only, or since its establishment, and runs somewhat high because the number of inmates, for lack of accommodation, has been low.

Courts Take Action
"While children now sometimes are committed by the courts to the Corsicana orphan's home, it seems to me that since the establishment of the institution at Waco, and the girls training school, at Gainesville, this would be the best place, in my opinion, for the offenders against the law should be sent either to Gainesville or to Gainesville; neglected and dependent not offenders, should be sent to the Corsicana school. The law establishing this institution states that 'all children under the age of 14 years shall be admitted subject only to such restrictions as the board may deem requisite to the welfare of said home,' and the provision restricts the maximum age at which a child shall be received into the institution at 14 years. Prior to the establishment of the school at Waco, it probably was desirable, at times, to have children committed to the Corsicana institution; that is to say, when they were puerile offenders as well as orphans. But since the establishment of the girls training school at Waco, it is no longer necessary that children be committed to the Corsicana institution. It should be reserved for orphans dependent but not necessarily neglected.

"The privileges of the school undoubtedly have been abused. There are many children there who do not properly belong, but whose parents have secured their entrance in order to be relieved of responsibility.

"There is a state law providing for punishment of a husband who abandons his wife, but it does not seem to be effective. If men are prosecuted and put in jail, they remain at the expense of the county, therefore, county officers seem reluctant to follow up cases of abandonment. The law should be more stringent, and fathers who abandon their wives and children should be sent to the state prison upon conviction, rather than to jail.

"The institution for several years has maintained a school comparable to one of the public schools of the state—from the kindergarten to the high school. But the school had neglected, as the institution at Gainesville had done, without manual training.

Manual Training Work
"Four years ago the Board of Control secured a small appropriation for the manual training building, which subsequently was enlarged. The school now has the elements of a beginning in manual training work.

"It is merely a beginning, and until this year, the work was not properly incorporated, or coordinated, with the other school work at the institution. There is not the same necessity or urgency for industrial training that there is at the juvenile training school at Gainesville. But it should be developed and emphasized, in order that boys or girls may be made as independent as practicable when they finish.

"At the end of the present biennium, the institution will be fairly supplied with buildings and with equipment. As it grows and develops greater stress should be laid upon the industrial side of the institution, and not so much upon purely high school work."

PRACTICALLY ALL COTTON CROP HAS BEEN HARVESTED

IDEAL WEATHER CONDITIONS
FACILITATES GATHERING CROP IN SOUTHWEST

By Associated Press.
Dallas, Texas, Nov. 12.—With almost ideal weather conditions prevailing during the latter part of October, except in the most northern districts, practically all of the cotton crop in the Southwest has been harvested, says the report of the car division, American Railway Association, in a resume of general business and crop conditions in the Southwest.

Yields have been "pretty much in line with previous estimates," and indications are that "last year's carry-over, plus this year's production of spinnable cotton, will not be more than enough for the current year's needs," warranting higher prices than now obtainable, according to the report.

Urging that prices of cotton be synchronized with demand for it, the report continues, "it is greatly important, therefore, not only to producers, but to all business in cotton-producing territory, that cotton prices represent a fair profit to the growers, and this can only be brought about by restricting sales to correspond with active demand, and that demand will not do so, forthcoming as long as offerings are not in excess of current requirements.

Both receipts and exports of cotton at Texas' principal ports show decreases this year as compared with figures representing the same period of last year.

At Galveston, receipts for 1927, to the end of October were 1,017,264 bales, compared with 1,356,125 bales for the same period in 1926-27, according to the report, a decrease of 238,861 bales, or 17.6 per cent. At Houston, receipts showed a decrease of 3 per cent.

Exports at Galveston this year total 531,302 bales against 754,725 bales exported in the same period in 1926-27, and represent a decrease in exports of 223,423 bales, or 29.6 per cent. The decrease in exports at Houston is $3,045 bales, or 12 per cent.

NANKING NATIONALISTS URGED OPEN NEGOTIATIONS FOR PEACE ON APPROACHING HANKOW CITY

By Associated Press.
Hankow, China, Nov. 14.—Subordinates of General Tang Seng-Chi, who assumed power in Hankow after the disintegration of the Nanking Nationalist government, have asked the Nanking Nationalists, whose approach on Hankow has brought a reign of fear and disorder, to cease hostilities and to open negotiations for peace.

The evacuation of Tang Seng-Chi's troops has been completed and only the thirtieth army garrison remains. Behind them they left the body of a Hunan general, strangled at Tang Seng-Chi's orders, when he suggested the retirement of the latter.

The Chinese population is stricken by apprehension, fearing further looting and burning by the leaderless soldiers that remained after the Tang Seng-Chi's withdrawal. Despite the terror of the Chinese civilians, the Chinese authorities have forbidden them to enter the heavily barricaded concession areas. Great numbers of them, however, have sought safety there.

Tang Seng-Chi's deputy commander issued a proclamation which says: "As the commander states, I will withdraw the armies after the Wu Chang forces have given up adjoining Hankow, Wang and Han Yang." Tang Seng-Chi has been reported variously as pressing westward with his troops and as having fled aboard a Japanese boat for Japan. He has been harassed steadily by the Nanking forces for some weeks.

General Tang Seng-Chi's departure from Hankow was demanded from the Bank of China in the Chinese city two hundred fifty thousand dollars Mexican. His troops entered the strong room of the Central Bank of China in the French concession and are alleged to have stolen three hundred thousand dollars, Mexican.

Prior to his departure Tang Seng-Chi ordered that General Chang Kuo Wei, Hunan commander of the eighth army be strangled because the latter had suggested that Tang Seng-Chi retire. The condemned general's body was found in Tang Seng-Chi's headquarters.

The British, German and Russian concessions were strongly barricaded. The Japanese and French landed additional forces to protect their concessions.

GERMAN HYDROPLANE CRASHES AS IT STARTS FOR OPEN SEA FROM AZORES - HARBOR GRACE

By Associated Press.
Horta, Island of Fayal, Azores, Nov. 14.—An attempt to demonstrate the practicability of transatlantic flying ended in disaster as the longest over-water leg of the trip, the 1,600 miles from here to Harbor Grace, New Foundland, was thwarted. As a result the Heinkel hydroplane D-1220 today was a twisted mass of wreckage.

The Junkers hydro-airplane D-1220, which is backed by the Hamburg-American Line, backers of the Heinkel venture, after a long wait for favorable weather to hop off for America, has postponed its take-off. The Viennese actress, Lilly Dilleuz, who is reported to have paid $12,500 for passage on the plane to the United States, was represented as being very anxious that the flight of the Junkers plane continue despite the crash of the D-1220.

The D-1220 accident has not been explained. The plane, which has met with ill luck since the outset of its flight from Warnemunde, Germany, October 12, circled around the harbor a few times warning up its engines. Then as the plane headed for the open sea the engines stopped and the flyers plunged into the ocean.

The crew was found swimming in the water, covered with oil, and one of them was killed. The plane was found in a few minutes, and the wreckage was taken off. Another launch took the partly submerged plane in tow. When brought into the harbor it was found to be a total wreck. The pontoons were completely smashed and one wing was missing.

Horst Merz, commander of the plane, which has been here since Nov. 4, and his companions, Fritz Rhohe, mechanic, and William Brock, radio operator, have not yet decided on their next step.

SOLE REMAINING MEXICAN CANDIDATE HAS NARROW ESCAPE

TWO BOMBS THROWN AT CAR OF GENERAL OBREGON
IN MEXICO CITY

By Associated Press.
Mexico City, Nov. 14.—An unsuccessful attempt Sunday to assassinate the sole remaining presidential candidate, General Alvaro Obregon, was being investigated by police today to determine if it had any connection with a political conspiracy.

General Obregon had come to Mexico City to resume active charge of his political campaign when two bombs were thrown at his automobile. His face was slightly cut by flying glass from the windshield. Three men who threw the bombs from another automobile were arrested after two of them had been shot.

General Obregon arrived at a time when the anti-electionist organization, which opposes him, was considering the selection of a non-military man to replace the two candidates, Generals Arnulfo Gomez and Francisco Serrano, who were executed after initiating the revolutionary attempt against the government.

Heads for Bull Fight.
General Obregon, who had been in the city scarcely more than two hours, was motoring with a party of friends to a bull fight. As they passed down the Avenue of Insurgents, in the heart of the fashionable district and near the United States Embassy, another automobile drew alongside. Three men were in it. As they passed General Obregon's car they threw two small dynamite bombs.

Both bombs exploded. They shattered the windshield and damaged the automobile. A piece of glass from the windshield scratched Obregon's cheek.

Obregon's chauffeur, Catorino Villanova, drew his pistol and opened fire on the bombers. Ignacio Otero, a companion of Obregon, who was in another car, also opened fire. Two of the bombers, Lamberto Ruiz and Antonio Tirado, were seriously wounded. The automobile hearing Otero took up the pursuit and captured the trio. The third man was Francisco Olivero.

Appear to Be Working Men.
Police said the three men appeared to be working men who were acting for enemies of Obregon. The two wounded men were given medical attention at police headquarters and their condition was described as grave. Police did not make public any statement they or their companion may have made.

Perfectly calm amidst the excitement, Obregon ordered his chauffeur to continue to the bull fight. He saw the performance as he had planned.

President Calles was also at the bull ring. When he heard of the attempted assassination he warmly congratulated Obregon on his escape.

The anti-electionist organization has under consideration Luis Llanos, Jose Vasconcelos, former minister of education and Dr. Francisco Vasquez as their candidates. It is said that none of them has yet consented to make the race.

General Obregon today expressed belief that the attempt to assassinate him was of political nature.

Miguel Albeson Robles, former secretary of industry and commerce, was arrested late last night while coming from a theatre, but no reason for his arrest has been made public although some believe that it was an outgrowth of the attempted assassination. Robles recently took a place of leadership in the anti-electionist party which is seeking a non-military candidate to run against Obregon.

SKILL SAVED NOTED ITALIAN SPEEDSTER OF AIR IN STORM

LANDED SMALL PLANE SUCCESSFULLY AFTER THRILLING EXPERIENCE

By Associated Press.
Parma, Italy, Nov. 12.—Major Mario De Bernardi, Italian speed expert, who recently was timed at more than 315 miles an hour in a biplane, had a narrow escape from death in a storm here yesterday, his flying skill being the only thing that saved him and his passenger, Major Pedace, secretary-general of the Aeco Club, from disaster.

Major De Bernardi and his companion were up in a tiny touring plane when the storm hit them. The Italian flier maneuvered his plane to the ground successfully, but it was made a most difficult landing, being lifted from the ground by the wind, bumping and skidding a long way across the field to the great anxiety of the aviation staff here.

PEAK PRODUCTION CORSICANA-POWELL FIELD 4 YEARS AGO

LOCAL FIELD DEMONSTRATES SHORT LIFE OF HEAVY PRODUCTION

The present talk of overproduction and the record achieved by the Seminoles district in production of oil brings to mind the fact that four years ago Sunday, November 13, 1923, the Corsicana-Powell field reached what was at that time an unheard of peak production for one day, which was 354,839 barrels.

With several of the largest wells in the field pinched in on account of lack of pipeline and a corresponding drop in the tremendous daily production. The present daily average production of this field is slightly below 14,000 barrels daily for the last week in October the run being placed at 13,940 barrels.

This shows how steadily and rapidly an oil field declines after its peak is reached. At the time the record daily production was made in the Corsicana-Powell field it bettered the record then held by the Santa Fe Springs field in California, by nearly 14,000 barrels, that field having had a record production for one day of 341,000 barrels on August 22, 1923, and declined thereafter.

The Cushing, Oklahoma, field had a record daily production of 316,000 barrels and it also declined rapidly thereafter. With the great production, the field has more than half a million barrels daily in the combined Seminoles, Oklahoma, area having thrown the oil industry into confusion and brought the first successful curtailment program ever introduced, and also bringing down the price of crude oil to where there is little new development work going on.

It might be well for crude oil consumers to remember the fate of other great oil production areas. The Corsicana-Powell field is only a repetition of others in the past, the splendor of old, Humble, Goose Creek, Saratoga, West Columbia, in Texas; Smackover in Arkansas, and numerous fields in Oklahoma and California.

While the Corsicana-Powell field was producing at its peak the Humble Company was by far the largest producer in this field, having at their peak around 125,000 barrels daily. This company was fortunate in acquiring the cream of the leases in the long shoestring field, which extended in a south-west-northeast direction for some seven miles and with a varying width from a quarter of a mile to almost a mile.

A visit to this greatest of oil fields to the time of development, when many changes in the four years. The several shack towns of Tuckertown, Whitten, Mildred and others about disappeared, there being little left to remind one of the feverish activity that centered about these shack cities. However, as the production has settled and the wells placed on the pump, there have been erected numerous company houses and supply buildings of a permanent and substantial nature, and there are yet thousands of people who work and reside in the field, as there are gasoline plants and other industries in the hearts of the field, aside from the practically 1,000 wells on the pump.

While conditions have changed from this date four years ago, when many thousands of men were at work in the field, which was one of the most rapidly developed fields in history, there are still evidences that remind one of the fact that this was once the greatest producing oil field in the history of the nation.

The history of the Corsicana field in four years is a rise to a peak production of 354,000 barrels and a decline to 14,000 barrels, or a drop of 240,000 barrels in four years.

WORTHAM CRUSHED COOLEGGE JACKETS IN GAME FRIDAY

Special to the Sun.
Wortham, Texas, Nov. 12.—The Coolegge Yellow Jackets were crushed by the Wortham Bulldogs Friday afternoon in a hotly contested game on the Wortham field which resulted in a score of 32 to 0. There was little doubt as to the outcome of the game from the very beginning.

The Yellow Jackets kicked off to the locals who in turn plowed their way through and over the line for the first touchdown within the first few minutes of play. The Bulldogs were never forced to kick more than twice but advanced for first downs almost at their pleasure.

The Coolegges made only one first down which came by the air route. The Wortham line was never threatened and the only chance for a touchdown by a Yellow Jacket was near the close of the game when one of the visitors intercepted a pass of his 20 yard line with an open field but fell with the ball.

While the Wortham team had several men out of the play Coach Morton was also handicapped in having several of his men on the sideline or at home. A fine spirit prevailed among the players who will meet again within the next few weeks in the cage games.
